And with the concert we are going to have a lot of money and charity for Ethiopia.

UK WEMBLEY

Yesterday was a concert in Wembley stadium.
The concert's name is "Live Aid" and a lot of groups played there: Black Sabbath, David Bowie, U2, Queen... The concert was organised because in Ethiopia there was a terrible drought and Bob Geldof had an idea to raise money to help Ethiopia. The result was a fantastic event approximately 70.000 people. At the same time there was another huge concert in Philadelphia.

Yesterday, I had the best experience of my life.

I went to "LIVE AID" concert!!

I heard about the concert one month ago. I wanted to go because I wanted to donate money to help the Ethiopia people and situation, and on the other hand, to see the best singers in the world.

It was brilliant, I was ~~very~~ exited. The concert, was super motivated, but it was full of people. Do you know that 70.000 people went to the concert?

The concert was 16 hours long so I went to bought a extra cheese hamburger.

Queen was fantastic!!!

They sang for 20 minutes!!!

I drank 3 bottles and I danced all day!!!

I bought a "LIVE AID" exclusive t-shirt signed by the "Queens" and I have farm it for my bedroom.
